“Jokes of the Month”

Q: Why shouldn't you tell ducks jokes on April Fools' Day?

A: They'll quack up!

Q: Why should you avoid the stairs on April Fools' Day?

A: Because they're always up to something!

Q: How many fools does it take to change a lightbulb?

A: Four. One to hold the bulb and three to turn the chair!

Q: What do you call a group of bunnies hopping away from you?

A: A receding hareline!

Q: What kind of shoes do frogs wear when spring comes?

A: Open toad!

RESIDENT RIGHTS

Understanding your rights as a resident of an ND nursing facility

GROUPS AND ACTIVITIES

- You are able to participate in social, religious, and community activities of your choice, as long as they do not interfere with the rights of other residents.
- These activities may be inside or outside of the facility.
- You have the right to spend time outside.
- You may participate and help organize resident and family council meetings. For resident and family councils, the facility must provide a space and staff person to assist when requested. (Effective 11/28/16 staff, visitors or other guests may attend such council meeting only if invited by the residents or family.)
- The facility cannot force you to work or perform services for them. If you so choose to work and perform services, it must be documented in your care plan indicating the need or desire for work, the nature of the services performed and whether it is voluntary or paid.

Nursing home residents' rights are the legal and moral rights of the residents of a nursing home.

KRCC Resident Progressive Story (St. Patrick's Style)
March 6, 2024

There was once a little leprechaun who lived in a place where no one wanted to live.

There were lots more leprechaun that lived in the village.

They decided as a village to do something that was fun, so they went heading into the woods to scare everyone. In the place where they were heading, they did scare off the leprechauns, that then left no leprechauns in that village. O'Reily wanted a house with a good size bathroom that had a shower and a lot of water coming out to wash his body with. From the top of the tree, he saw one house that was occupied by O'Maley, where no leprechaun wanted to live. He was bashful, a hermit of sorts and no one liked hermits, so he had to hide.

O'Maley found a mate and set up housekeeping and had food in the freezer, so they were content for a while. Somebody moved in next door and upset their plans and so they scattered all over Beulah, North Dakota. Beulah was not the town that had lots of trees and they liked trees so they could build and make things. They liked riches and they were looking where they could find some. But they were looking around and found no gold.

So.... They moved to Hazen. But they found a pot of coal, so they decided to go to Golden Valley, where the gold was plentiful. They needed more happiness, so they messaged all their friends in Happy Rocks (Gladstone, North Dakota). They really had a lot of fun. Eating in Zap, North Dakota where the good food was found, Chinese!

They took a trip to Beulah for dessert. Slumber caught up with them, so they decided to drag main and went to bed.

They woke the next day and went back to Golden Valley where the people were golden. O'Reily took his friend O'Maley and headed south, looking for their heritage. In search of the Blarney Stone O'Riley and O'Maley came across a field of four-leaf clovers with Rose and Molly dancing among the clovers. Love at first glance, they were love struck! They went to meet the women and they danced up a storm together!

And He took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, "This is My body which is given for you; do this in remembrance of Me." Likewise He also took the cup after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in My blood, which is shed for you.
