RESIDENT RIGHTS

GRIEVANCES AND COMPLAINTS

- * You can state and discuss problems, concerns, grievances, or suggestions for change with anyone you choose. The facility must protect you from retaliation or punishment for speaking up.
- * The facility must provide you with a statement about your right to file a complaint with the Department of Health and Human Services, Health Facilities, concerning resident abuse, neglect and misappropriation of your property in the facility.
- * You must be provided a copy of the facilities grievance policy. It should tell you how to file a grievance and the time frame for a response from the facility towards resolution of your grievance.
 1. The policy should include:
 - A) the name, business mailing and email address, and a business phone number of the grievance official.
 - B) the reasonable expected time frame of review and response to the grievance.
- * You must be given information about other agencies and organizations, such as the State Ombudsman Program or Medicaid Fraud, that may assist you with resolving a complaint or providing information and assistance.

Nursing home residents' rights are the legal and moral rights of the residents of a nursing home.
